OWNER.

It Costs to Live in New York, From the Architectural Record.

The architect of even handsome and costly dwellings in New York is confronted by extremely difficult problems. Land is so very expensive in the best residential districts that a man who is willing to pay, say, $100,000 for house and lot is frequently obliged to put up with very inadequate space. In any other city in the world a sum as large as that would secure a desirable site of ample dimensions and leave at least $70,000 to be spent upon the house; but in New York a man who wishes to live in a choice location and does not wish to pay extravagantly for it must be satisfied with a lot measuring not more than 25x100, and frequently not even as much as that and frequently not even as much as that. The architect, consequently, is obliged to plan a house on a site which is very narrow and very deep; and he must at the same time so dispose his space that he will afford his client every convenience and a headsome and even spacious architectural.

NO OPPOSITION IN ASSEMBLY AT CROMWELL ACTING FOR EQUITA-WINONA LAKE.

for Years Come Together in Amicable Manner.

As stated exclusively in The Star yester-Presbyterian Church voted to reunite with ference, now in session at Fresno, Cal., has not yet decided as to union.

By the adoption in its entirety of the report of the special canvassing committee, the assembly ordered that the question as it now stands be referred to the committee.

Without his consent neither side, it is declared, is to air its charges further. Mr. Cromwell is reported to be acting ostensibly as counsel for the Fourishie. His adon co-operation, the membership of which by as counsel for the Equitable. His adwas increased to twenty-one, with the prothe end that details of the consolidation may be worked out in a report to the next general assembly. The committee will con-sider the corporate and legal rights of both with the wishes of those whom he represides, keeping the consolidation within the legal limits, thereby avoiding civil suits and injunctions. The special committee in its report on consolidation canvassed the vote by presbyteries, showing 144 yeas and present any thought of yielding if the sur-39 nays. Two presbyteries took no action, render is to impair its own position one gave conditional assent and five made no report.

Say Way to Defeat is Open.

Dissenters from the east and the south, who apparently made no concerted effort outside secret committee meetings to defeat consolidation, declared that the general asconsidered before the committee on co-operation makes its report in 1906. Several of the eastern dissenters declare that the action of the general assembly was perfectly in accord with the wishes of the op-

The proposed union with the reformed church, general synod, was discussed, but no action was taken, pending action by that body, which is in session in New York. An official telegram was read by Stated Clerk Roberts from the colored Cumber-land assembly, in session at Huntsville, Ala., saying a committee of seven had been appointed to consider union with the Presbyterian Church, and asked that a similar committee be named by the assembly here. It was referred to the commit-tee on bills and overtures.

To Celebrate Bicentennial.

The assembly voted to select a special committee to arrange for a celebration during May of next year of the two hundredth anniversary of the formation of the first presbytery in Philadelphia. It is understood this celebration will be held in Philadelphia.

Alexander, colored, of Brooklyn, spoke on the alleged criminal tendency of the negro. He said when disturbances arise in the south the negroes who have no local attachment to a community begin to move. It is largely this class which goes into the north. Much of the criminality among negroes, he said, is due to taking them into police courts and prisons for trivial offenses. The negro race is growing in its power to de-liberate. He said the negroes are against separate presbyteries. Opposed by Justice Harlan.

Justice John M. Harlan said it is the glib talk about growing criminality among negroes which comes from people who want to keep up race prejudice. In proportion to numbers, he said, there are no more negro criminals than white. "Let us find nowhere in the reports of deliberations of the general assembly anything of 'the crim-inality of the negro,' "he said. The resolu-tions of the committee were adopted with no reference to negro criminality.

The resolutions in the committee report on marriage and divorce were spoken to by former Moderator Dr. Charles Dickey by former Moderator Dr. Charles Dickey of Philadelphia. Fourteen denominations are united in the movement to have preachers refuse to perform marriage ceremonies of divorced people unless they were divorced on Scriptural grounds. "Di-vorce," said he, "is a question of state which churches have the right to take up. The taking of a government census on divorces will show that an alarming condition

He commended the divorce reform ideas of the American Bar Association, and said churches could well follow these ideas, as they showed great possibilities of reform.

A new point in the resolutions prevents the remarriage of an innocent party to a divorce until a year has passed, and he urged its adoption as an advance step in the divorce movement. He said when men and women rushed from the divorce court to the marriage altar they were not innocent.

The resolutions were adopted.

A majority report, signed by Drs. Templeton and Wigginton and Judge Beard, gave a complete list of and Judge Beard, gave a complete list of the presbyteries which had voted for or against union, and declared that the union had been constitutionally agreed to by a majority of the presbyteries in the Cum-berland church. Elders McClelland and Young submitted a minority report, admitting the vote, except one presbytery, but asserting that the church has no constitutional right to unite with another church, and that therefore the union has not been constitutionally agreed to. It further affirms that the Presbyterian church has not compiled with terms of agreement with firms that the Presbyterian church has not complied with terms of agreement with reference to separate presbyteries.

After the reading of the reports a telegram was received from Winona Lake, Ind., announcing that the Presbyterian assembly had declared the union proposal carried as far as that church was constructed and that all the agriditions had carried as far as that church was con-cerned, and that all the conditions had been compiled with. A member then read a personal telegram from Dr. W. Plumber Bryan of Chicago, contradicting the first dispatch and declaring that the Presby-terian assembly had indefinitely postponed the subject. Both messages were received the subject. On a motion to substitute the minority for the majority report, Dr. Templeton of Texas opened the discussion. He was followed by other speakers, the debate lasting many hours. It is expected to continue throughout most of tomorrow. The unionists see no need of discussing the matter at all, but have acceded to the demands of the anti-unionists that there shall be a full debate.

The Durian-A Magical Fruit.

It was at the height of the durian season, when all animal kind in Malay, two-legged and four-legged, is animated by an insatiable lust for the fruit itself, and quick to fill with savage anger against whatever stands in the way of satisfying its appetite; for not the least remarkable quality of this remarkable fruit is the amatory effect it has upon those who consume it. All during eating Malay-man and beast-are aflame with erotic fire. The jungle resounds with the fighting of love-lorn brutes and the towns awaken to courtship and indulgence.

The durian is about the size of a pineapple, with a similarly rough outside covering, armed with half-inch spikes, which are tough and sharp. It grows on trees fully sixty feet in height, whose trunks are bare of limbs except at the very top, and when the fruit ripens it drops to the ground. So, as the season approaches, natives erect small huts under the tree or nearby, from which they watch for the falling fruit. Those who are fortunate enough to have such trees growing on their own land practheally live on the income derived from the sale of the durian, for in the peninsular market it brings the highest price of any eastern fruit. In the jungle edge, where these trees have no ownership, the race to build the first hut, and thus establish proprietary interest in the falling fruit, is equal in intensity to an Oklahoma land rush; and in the jungle the natives must compete also with the wild beasts that share man's fondness for this extraordinary fruit. Once, in the jungle, as I sat smoking, puzzling out some lost seladang tracks, a falling durian attracted my attention. The nearby trees seemed alive with monkeys racing to first reach the ground. One monkey, that had been left at the post, so to say, deliberately dove from the top of the tree where he sat fully forty feet, into the top of a smaller tree below, whence he swung to the ground; but, though he beat out the others, the durian had disappeared. A small leopard-like creature had sneaked off the fruit, and I was too absorbed in watching the aerial flight of the monkey to get more than a glimpse of the thief. The troop of monkeys that instantly foregathered discussed the situation loudly and in very obvious anger.
